Messy Art Time

Are you ready for some messy art time with your young child/children but not sure where to start? Come to the Arts and Crafts Center and let instructor Michelle Sterkowicz lead the way! This open class time between 10 a.m. and Noon will allow you the flexibility to come as you please and use the multi-craft room to its fullest potential.

Bring messy art clothes, a camera, and an open mind, Michelle will provide everything else! Precious photos will be captured while your child creates their first, or one hundredth, art piece. Parent participation required so make sure you too are wearing your messy art clothes.

Instructor Michelle Sterkowicz has worked with children for over 10 years and loves seeing the joy in the children's faces while exploring the world of art. From paint to play dough, the possibilities are endless!
